It should be noted that the identity cards issued by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs to foreign diplomats, technical/administrative staff, domestic staff, etc., do not give entitlement to entry without a visa, since these identity cards are not proof of possession of a Danish residence permit.

GERMANY

1. The Ministry of Foreign Affairs (Protocol Section) issues the following ID cards to diplomatic staff on request:

(a) Red diplomatic ID cards

These ID cards are issued to diplomats and family members making up their respective households;

(b) Blue ID cards

These ID cards are issued to technical and administrative staff and departmental staff at diplomatic missions and family members making up their respective households;

(c) Green ID Cards

These ID cards are issued to private domestic staff of staff working at diplomatic missions, provided that they do not have their permanent residence in the Federal Republic of Germany;

(d) Yellow ID cards

These ID cards are issued to staff working at diplomatic missions who have their permanent residence in the Federal Republic of Germany and family members making up their respective households, provided that they do not hold German nationality within the meaning of the Basic Law (Grundgesetz). Yellow ID cards are also issued to persons who entered the Federal Republic of Germany in possession of a valid visa to work at a diplomatic mission and who were not accredited by their government;

2. The Ministry of Foreign Affairs (Protocol Section) also issues the following documents on request:

(a) Pink ID cards

These ID cards are issued to staff without privileges of the Russian Federation's trade representation and of the trade departments of the Czech and Slovak embassies as well as family members making up their respective households;

(b) Special dark red ID cards

These ID cards are issued to foreign employees of representations of international and supranational organisations and institutions, as well as intergovernmental organisations, working permanently in Germany and family members making up their respective households who are foreign nationals.

3. The competent authorities at Länder level issue the following documents on request:

(a) White ID cards

These ID cards are issued to staff of the consular corps, consular staff and family members making up their respective households;

(b) Grey ID cards

These ID cards are issued to other employees and family members making up their respective households;

M. St.

Konsularischer
AUSWEIS

(c) White ID cards crossed with green lines

These ID cards are issued to honorary consular officials;

(d) Yellow ID cards

These ID cards are intended for members of consular representations (local staff) who have their permanent residence in the Federal Republic of Germany and family members making up their respective households, provided that these persons do not hold German nationality within the meaning of the Basic Law (Grundgesetz);

(e) Green ID cards

These ID cards are issued to private domestic staff of accredited consular officials, provided that they do not have their permanent residence in the Federal Republic of Germany.

Given that the abovementioned categories of persons do not have their permanent residence in the Federal Republic of Germany, to enter German territory they must be in possession of a valid residence permit in the form of a visa authorising them solely to work for an accredited consular official. A residence permit is issued solely on this basis and for a duration of one year. It can be extended several times, but may not exceed the duration of the employer's assignment. When the residence permit expires, the private domestic employee must leave the country and may not change employers without having lodged a new request abroad.

- New residence permits in card format (ID card format) issued by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs:
 - * Diplomatenausweis (diplomatic ID card) and – Diplomatenausweis Art. 38 WÜD (diplomatic ID card pursuant to Article 38 of the Vienna Convention on Diplomatic Relations)
 - These documents are equivalent to the old red diplomat's passes and bear the letter "D" on the back.
 - * Protokollausweis für Verwaltungspersonal (protocol pass for administrative staff)
 - This document is equivalent to the old blue pass for seconded members of the administrative and technical staff of the missions and bears the letters "VB" on the back.
 - * Protokollausweis für dienstliches Hauspersonal (protocol pass for service staff)
 - This document is equivalent to the old blue pass for seconded members of the service staff of the missions and bears the letters "DP" on the back.
 - * Protokollausweis für Ortskräfte (protocol pass for local staff)
 - This document is equivalent to the old yellow pass for locally hired employees of the missions and bears the letters "OK" on the back.
 - * Protokollausweis für privates Hauspersonal (protocol pass for private domestic staff)
 - This document is equivalent to the old green pass for private domestic staff of seconded members of the missions and bears the letters "PP" on the back.
 - * Sonderausweis für Mitarbeiter internationaler Organisationen (Special card issued to members of staff of international organisations)
 - This document is equivalent to the old dark red special pass for members of staff of international organisations and bears the letters "IO" on the back.

The respective privileges are indicated on the back of the pass.

ESTONIA

As of May 2017, the diplomatic identification issued by the Estonian Foreign Ministry - the diplomatic identity card and the service card - will have a new design. The previous versions of the diplomatic identity card and service card were issued until May 2017. The transition to the new documents will be gradual and the older versions of the cards remain valid until the expiry date indicated.

Diplomatic identity cards may be claimed by foreign diplomats at diplomatic representations and consulates accredited to Estonia and their family members who are foreign nationals. The service card may be claimed by foreign administrative and service staff at a foreign representation and their family members who are foreign nationals, foreign private servants and honorary consuls, foreign employees of representations of international organisations and foreign employees of an international organisation and other institutions created by international agreement located in Estonia and their family members who are foreign nationals, and Estonian citizens and permanent residents working at a foreign representation or other institution.

There are eight (8) categories of diplomatic identification, broken down into eighteen (18) series:

Diplomatic identification incorporates a certificate enabling personal digital identification and a certificate enabling e-signature. These certificates are generated in accordance with the public part of the key generated for the document chip and a data file.

The data on the front side of the diplomatic card is the following:

- Type and category of identification
- Identity card number
- Name of the embassy
- Surname of the bearer
- First name(s) of the bearer
- Date of birth of the bearer
- Identification number of the bearer
- Position of the bearer
- Facial image of the bearer
- Signature of the bearer
- Date of issue and date of expiry.
